

I would like to register my strong opposition to the changes proposed by the FCC in rules pertaining to broadcast ownership. In the interest of the American people and democracy, the rules should absolutely stay the same or even be strengthened so that the people can get all sides of the issues facing them in this country. The public interest should be put way above media monopoly and money.